

List of ISO Registrars

(Current as of 01/09/09)

The following is a list of registrars providing certification services for Quality, Environmental and Safety Management Systems. This list is provided for information only - it does not constitute any endorsement or recommendation by MAS Solutions, LLC.

As with any supplier of services to your company, your decision to select a registrar should be based on an assessment of their capability, as well as consideration of any references and/or recommendations. As your certification, once achieved, will cover a period of several years, it's important to select a registrar that's a "good fit", and that has the ability to meet your service needs and expectations.

Please note that this listing is only revised periodically, so some of the information below may have changed since the last update.
